1. Introduction

In the development of productivity it is an essential factor for the assurance of the well-being of a world increasingly interconnected, and for the achievement of long-term development goals through which a gradual and balanced sustainable growth may emerge across different levels of the society. The scope of the concepts of productivity is not limited to a technical concept anymore but is constantly being updated globally, subjected to different negotiations, as a driving force that directs the economic progress of a country, its institutional excellence and social well-being.

The National Productivity Secretariat, established under the Ministry of Industry and Entrepreneurship Development as at present, is implementing a number of different programmes and projects to promote productivity in various sectors of the Gross Domestic Product. In line with this, the National Productivity Awards Competition, held every two years, is a competition that systematically evaluates institutions in the public sector, manufacturing and service sectors and schools that bring productivity concepts to practical use in the most creative and excellent manner.

In this competition, held based on a number of basic objectives such as increasing the efficiency of institutions and organizations that produce goods and services and creating a culture of continuous improvement of processes, increasing production capacity, improving the quality of goods and services, identifying and preventing waste in production, encouraging employees to create innovations, creating a motivated workforce with physical health and a clear mind and increasing labour productivity, and accessing global market competitiveness, all institutions participating in this competition are evaluated in a transparent manner by a panel of judges who have acquired expertise in the subject of productivity.

This Productivity Awards Competition renders an immense support to strengthen and streamline the export process as an approach to address the challenges faced by local industrialists, as well as to empower local entrepreneurs through productivity concepts and thereby provide citizens with the ability to have access to high-quality goods and services.

This competition, held in concurrence with the “Clean Sri Lanka” project implemented by the current government as a strategic tool for the achievement of the social, ethical and environmental objectives, creates a strong foundation for establishing social security, creating environmental sustainability and strengthening mutual bonds between groups of people by increasing the overall productivity of the country.

The National Productivity Secretariat is fully dedicated to provide you with the new knowledge on productivity you need, with the aim of transforming all institutions that wish to participate in this competition to become the best institutions in the field through a systematic methodology. Accordingly, the National Productivity Secretariat extends its warmest congratulations to all of you who participate in this competition in order to effectively achieve this national task.

2. Objectives of the National Productivity Awards Competition

- To encourage all schools to improve operational efficiency and effectiveness by establishing internal and external benchmarks.
- To guide schools to produce a future generation that can actively contribute to national development in line with the national vision and development programme.
- To produce a good generation of children who are able to face future global challenges through sustainable development by training schools in waste management, energy conservation and resource efficiency.
- To encourage positive motivations for social, ethical and environmental formations to produce a physically and mentally healthy generation.
- To continuously motivate students for excellence by identifying and evaluating an exemplary school system and a generation of students at the national level.

3. Categorization of Schools.

- The school section of the National Productivity Awards competition is conducted under five categories.

Category 1	Government schools offering classes up to Advanced Level (1AB & 1C)
Category 2	Government schools offering classes up to Ordinary Level (Type 2)
Category 3	Government schools offering classes up to Grade 5 (Type 3)
Category 4	Private and International Schools
Category 5	Pirivenas <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>o Primary Pirivenas</li><li>o Maha Pirivenas</li><li>o Vidyayatana Pirivenas</li></ul>

- Under Category 4, all schools registered with the Ministry of Education and only those registered under the Companies Act No. 7 of 2007 are considered as private and international schools.

4. Classification of Awards

4.1 Depending on the score obtained in the on-site inspection awards will be presented to the establishments.

Gold Award	- Institutions scoring 900 marks or above 900 marks
First Place	- Institutions scoring 850 marks or above 850 marks
Second Place	- Institutions scoring 750 – 849 marks
Third Place	- Institutions scoring 650 – 749 marks
Special Proficiency	- Institutions scoring 550 – 649 marks
Proficiency	- Institutions scoring 450 - 549 marks

- These score ranges may vary based on the recommendations of the National Productivity Awards Advisory Committee.
- Awards and certificates will be awarded to institutions scoring first, second, third and special Proficiency levels, while certificates will be awarded only to institutions scoring Proficiency levels.

4.2 Gold Award

Only institutions that have won first place or a gold award in the most recent National Productivity Awards held in the previous year can apply for the Gold Award. Accordingly, only institutions that have secured first places in the 2024 National Productivity Awards Competition can apply for the Gold Award. An on-site inspection of those institutions will be conducted by a five-member expert panel. Gold awards will be awarded based on the marks obtained therein. If an institution does not qualify for the Gold Award, it will be placed based on the marks obtained by that institution. Institutions that have received the Gold Award in three consecutive years can apply for the Platinum Award. The evaluation process for this award will be carried out based on specific criteria.

4.3 Platinum Award

Institutions that have received the Gold Award for three consecutive years are eligible to apply for the Platinum Award. The evaluation process for this award is conducted based on specific criteria and is carried out by a distinguished panel of expert judges.

6 .Electronic Registration

Registration for the Productivity Awards Competition is conducted in two phases:

1. Initial Registration
2. Second Phase of Registration

Follow the steps below for electronic registration:

6.1 Initial Registration

At this stage, the institution must enter its basic information and complete the initial registration for the National Productivity Awards Competition.

To complete the initial registration after May 15, 2025, please visit the web site:

www.productivity.lk and access the following link.

<https://awards.npsebreeze.com/candidate-registration>

All institutions participating in the competition from 2025 onwards must register through the above link, and please note that previous registrations will not be valid.

Please pay attention to the following points when entering information for the registration number:

- Enter the name of the institution correctly. The name you provide must match the name mentioned on the eligibility or certification documents. Therefore, include the region as well, if necessary, for clear identification.

- Initial registration is mandatory for all institutions applying for the National Productivity Awards Competition. The code and password received through this process are the responsibility of your institution to keep confidential. These credentials will also be required for making the final payment for registration.
- Only institutions that complete the initial registration for the National Productivity Awards Competition 2025/26 will be provided with the necessary resources and training programs. Additionally, updates and guidance related to the competition will be shared exclusively with the registered institutions.

6.2 Second Phase of Registration:

6.2.1 Second phase of registration starts in early September 2025. At this stage, the relevant payment must be made, and the application form must be completed and submitted properly to the National Productivity Secretariat.

Take note of the following points when entering the information for the registration number. Enter the name of the institution correctly. If your institution is qualified, the name you enter here will be mentioned in the certificate. Therefore, if necessary for identification, specify the area.

Follow the steps below for the second phase of registration:

6.2.1 To obtain the registration number, visit the website www.productivity.lk and access the following link:

<https://awards.npsebreeze.com/candidate-registration>

6.2.2 From the year 2025 onwards, all institutions participating in the competition must log in to the above link using the Username and Password received during the initial registration to access the National Productivity Secretariat portal.

6.2.3 A payment receipt is mandatory for the second registration phase. Ensure that the receipt details are entered accurately.

6.3 After correctly entering the information for the second registration, attach the page containing the registration number and barcode / QR code as the cover page of your application.

Carefully read the instructions provided in the application and complete it accordingly

9. Submission of Applications.

Only one hard copy of the completed application can be submitted to the National Productivity Secretariat before 14:00 hours on 30th January 2026. It can also be submitted by registered post or express courier service to reach us before that date. It is hereby notified that the National Productivity Secretariat is not responsible for any delays in the post or express courier service. However, for applications received after 14:00 hours on 30th January 2026 a reduction in marks will apply as follows. Therefore, you are kindly requested to submit your applications on time.

- A PDF soft copy of your application must be uploaded before the deadline of the final application submission deadline
- 50 marks for each day of delay
- Applications delayed by more than 5 days will not be submitted for review. Please note that the days are calculated inclusive of Saturdays, Sundays and public holidays.
- This deduction of marks is done automatically by a computer system and therefore, it is not possible to prevent the deduction of marks for delays of submission for any reason.

- When sending the application by post, the application should be sent in a sealed envelope marked “Confidential” at the top and “National Productivity Awards-2025/26 Public Sector” at the top left.
- Marks will be deducted for institutions that submit incomplete applications.
- In preparing the report, facts should be stated in relation to each criterion, and if there are no facts, leave it blank.
- Applications provided with false information will be rejected.

10. Application Evaluation Process

The evaluation process consists of three main parts.

• Review Phase 1 - Review of submitted applications

In the first stage, all submitted reports are reviewed by a “panel of experts”. In this stage, reports that do not meet the required standards are rejected and initial marks are given to the remaining reports. Thereafter, institutions that exceed the cut-off score determined are eligible for the on-site inspection, while institutions that fall below the cut-off score are not eligible for the competition. If the report is incomplete, the National Productivity Secretariat will not take any action to evaluate the progress made by the institution despite the level of progress achieved, so all information must be included in the report. Future work to be done should not be included in the report, only the current situation should be included in the report.

• Review Phase 2 -On-site Evaluation

Institutions that are qualified for this purpose are subject to on-site evaluation by a panel of experts and the final score is given thereafter. The awardees will be selected based on these scores and the decision of the National Productivity Awards Competition Advisory Committee headed by the Secretary to the Ministry shall be final.

Note - The cut-off marks for on-site inspection will be determined based on the scores obtained by the institutions applying for the awards in the initial review. The primary objectives of this inspection are to verify the information mentioned in the application and report and to clarify the issues and matters that arise during the review of the report, but not to inspect the institutions in full. Hence, there is no obligation to award marks during the on-site inspection for matters not mentioned in the report. Therefore, it must be noted that it is essential to include all the matters that can be presented in the report.

During the inspection of the institution, an interview with the said team may be conducted and evidence may be presented to confirm the accuracy of the matters mentioned in the report, and the possibility of obtaining marks for last-minute quick developments that are not included in the report will be minimum.

The relevant institutions should take steps to provide the necessary facilities to the panel visiting the institution and should not offer gifts, provide other personal privileges or maintain personal relationships with the members of the panel. Furthermore, it should be strictly ensured that no attempt is made to obtain results through improper means. During the institutional evaluation, the inspection panel primarily conducts interviews and reviews relevant reports and data. Applicants will be allowed to make a short introductory presentation. This presentation should be limited to 20 minutes.

- Review Phase 3 – Independent Third Party evaluation on employee and client satisfaction

The score threshold for evaluating employee and client satisfaction is determined based on the scores obtained during the initial review and Review Phase 2 - On-site Inspection. After an independent survey, scores will be assigned for internal staff (employee) and service recipient (client) satisfaction. This evaluation is conducted by an independent survey team from an independent institution, assessing both employee and client satisfaction without prior notice.

After Review Phase 3, is conducted, final scores are assigned and based on these final scores, award winners are selected. The decisions of the advisory committee of the National Productivity Awards Competition, chaired by the Secretary of the Ministry of Industry and Entrepreneurship, are final

11.Complaints / Appeals Regarding the Judgment

Complaints and allegations regarding the National Productivity Awards 2025/26 on-site evaluation will be accepted only up to 07 days after the on-site evaluation. If you are not satisfied with the judgment or have any issues, you should submit them via the online registration platform using the same username and password after on-site evaluation. A committee headed by the Director of the National Productivity Secretariat will consider the complaints received in this regard and take necessary action. It is emphasized that there is no opportunity to take action on complaints received after 07 days and complaints received after the release of the results.

.13 Announcement of Award Winners

The results will be released in July 2026, and arrangements have been made to hold the National Productivity Awards Ceremony in August.

The National Productivity Secretariat will inform the winning institutions, and the results will also be published on the official website of the National Productivity Secretariat. That will be the official result. Results provided by all other means are unofficial results and the National Productivity Secretariat is not responsible for such results and is not obligated to respond to inquiries regarding them. It is emphasized that there is no opportunity to act on complaints and appeals received after the release of the results.

14. Obtaining the Observation Report

After the release of the results of the National Productivity Awards Competition, an observation report prepared in relation to the schools where the on-site inspection are conducted can be obtained from the National Productivity Secretariat, and the following fees are charged for it.

- Schools sector- Rs. 500.00

If you need this service provided by us, you can obtain it by making a written request to the Director of the National Productivity Secretariat before 60 days after the National Productivity Awards Ceremony. The relevant payments should be credited to the Account No. 7040648, of the “Director - National Productivity Secretariat” at Bank of Ceylon, Battaramulla Branch, and the receipt should be attached to the written request.

15. Post-Award Activities

There are two main post-award activities that we encourage participants to engage in:

15.1 Producing Semi-Annual Self-Evaluation Reports

All participants, regardless of their placement in the competition, are encouraged to conduct a self-evaluation of their organization based on a light criteria format provided by NPS. Submission of this semi-annual report will contribute to the scoring in the next NPA to be held in 2028.

15.2 Attending Best Practice Sharing Conferences

NPA will organize best practice sharing sessions, both physical and online, to share the success stories and best practices of NPA 2025/26 winners. All participants are encouraged to take part in these conferences.

16. Authority

The competition is conducted by the National Productivity Secretariat, the only government agency engaged in promoting productivity in Sri Lanka.

The sole adjudicating authority for the evaluation process and the awarding of the awardees is the Secretary to the Ministry to which the National Productivity Secretariat belongs. He will be advised and recommendations will be given to him by the Advisory Committee of the National Productivity Awards Competition for this purpose.
